My Every Day

Good morning world. You will not get the best of me.
Today is my day as are most of the days of my life.

I will make this day a valuable one,
for I know not how many I will still have.

I will Live, Love and Laugh for every day is only made and will turn out as good as I myself make it.

And today will be the best day of my life.

If God should choose not to give me tomorrow,
Then today . . .
I will have Lived, Loved and Laughed.
